CAPTAIN'S CORNER

Olla Amigo's. Well, 2002 is almost over and we're coming into the busy time of the year so let me wish all of you a fun and safe holiday season. The WR Board has met twice since the Range War and plans are already in the works for next year. The 2003 shooting calendar is almost ready for the printer and some dates are already on the website. We need a few more digital photos for the calendar if anyone has any.

Lucky Lennie and I are planning on attending the Territorial Governors meeting and convention this week. We will have a full report of what's new when we return. Speaking of new, Ionia will be hosting cowboy action shoots this year under the direction of Texas John Critter and High Maintenance. The Shoot Straight Cattle Company will have dates listed in the upcoming calendar.

Well, things keep changing on the Wolverine Rangers Board. I am sorry to announce that Micky Lobe has resigned as First Lieutenant and has stepped down from the Board. Rick will be sorely missed for his hard work and devotion to the members. Thanks, Rick! In lue of this, No Buk Chuck has rejoined the Board as the First Lieutenant.

I would also like to welcome KC and Daniele Fahrni, and Mike and Patsy Green to the WR Board of Directors. The Fahrni's will be representing the Ionia club and the Green's will be representing the Rockford club. I would like to thank Tucson Stu and Table Top Tom for all their great work on the Board.

2002 was a great year for Cowboy Action Shooting in Michigan and I hope with your help 2003 will be even better.

*Best Regards,
Chili Pepper Pete*

Ramblings from the Bunkhouse

Well, pard, another year has come and gone with a lot of well put together, safe shoots. Now we are in the holiday season hoping for that new holster rig or maybe a pair of mule ears, possibly even a new 100% beaver Bailey. The holidays always bring family and friends together for a joyous and happy time. This is what Lavender Lou and I are looking forward to. We hope that you and yours find the same.

This year's membership is 283 to date. We are continuing to grow with one or two new members every month.

We have ordered new badges. As soon as we receive them, we will be sending them out to the people who have notified us that their badge has broken.

Wolverine Rangers Club News

A new club has joined the ranks of the Rangers, located in Ionia. Texas John Critter and High Maintenance are working very hard at getting things going. Watch for their shoot dates in 2003.

There are three clubs holding winter shoots: DSC, Lapeer and Rockford. Check the web for all scheduled dates and any changes.

A GREAT BIG COWBOY MERRY CHRISTMAS AND HAPPY NEW YEAR, Y'ALL!!!!

Chippewa Regulators - Sault Ste. Marie

If you didn't make it to our October shoot, you missed a real fun time. With fall weather breathing down our dusters 43 shooters took to the range with guns a blazing. The highlight event of the match was our Turkey Shoot, complete with a live turkey watching cautiously from his cage. Now don't get alarmed. We didn't harm the old bird. Just gave him away to the lucky winner, Miss Bluebird. But after some serious discussion Miss Bluebird was given a frozen bird and the live gobbler was sent back to the farm with feathers still intact.

Our gun cart winner was No Name Justice. Lucky cowboy! Plans for 2003 look like another busy but fun year. Beginning in May through October we will host a shoot the third Saturday of each month. Right now we plan on a two-day shoot in June, the third Saturday and Sunday, June 21-22. We hope you can make one or more of our shoots next year if you're looking for more fun than a person should have.

DSC Rocky River Regulators

Our November shoot started a little wet but we still had 28 hardy souls show up to shoot. God blessed all of us by stopping the rain just before time to shoot and it held off until we were done.

We would like to give a great big THANK YOU to "The Lady" aka Sue Gillary (and Randy too). Sue spent Saturday and most of Saturday night cooking a traditional Thanksgiving dinner for all the shooters. If any cowboy went home hungry it was his own fault or else his eatin' arm was broke.

Our annual New Year's Eve shoot will be held on December 29th. We know it is not really New Year's Eve but we have found that most people either have to work or have plans on the eve so we keep it on our usual Sunday. If you are planning to attend remember to dress appropriate for the weather conditions. Cowboy attire is optional, especially the boots (they are really cold). We will have a bonfire to help keep the wolf away.

January 19th and February 16th are the first two shoots at DSC for 2003. We do NOT shoot in March because it is usually too wet on the range. All the winter shoots are held out-of-doors. Even if it is cold, we always have a good time.

Now y'all have a wonderful holiday season and we will see you at the shoots.

Think safety first, last and always.

Mackinaw Kid

January 4th Frontier Cartridge Shoot-Out

The Second Annual Frontier Cartridge Shoot-Out is scheduled for January 4th at the Rockford club in conjunction with their regular match. It's just a way to get more people to try black powder.

The rules are simple. 1) Black powder or substitutes in all firearms, 2) Cartridge pistols 38-40 caliber or larger and all cap and ball pistols, 3) No Reduced Loads, powder and bullets only, 4) Any CAS approved rifle and caliber, may use a grease cookie if required, 5) Shotgun either side by side or '87 with any bp load, and 6) Pistols will be shot double duelist style or gunfighter (shooters choice). Hope to see you there.

Rockford Regulators

A great big cowboy "Howdy: to all you Wolverine Rangers from the Rockford Regulators. A bit of introduction might be in order here. My alias is Diewalker, SASS #22433. Some of you know me, I know a lot of you. At the last meeting of our "cowboy board" at Rockford I was "volunteered" to write articles for our club. So, here is the first of what I hope are many.

In October of 2001, we had our very first Cowboy Action Shoot at Rockford, MI. The west side of the state is no stranger to CAS. We have many competitors and a few clubs scattered around the area. The support we have received from ALL the cowboy shooters has been greatly appreciated. We hope for your continued support in our humble CAS efforts.

It has been a memorable first year. One thing that comes to mind is the February shoot when we had 29 hearty souls brave the snow to shoot. I call it snow because it was white although I think it was about 2 degrees shy of being rain. After four stages we were soaked to the skin and unanimously agreed we had "had enough fun" for one day! We headed to the clubhouse for some hot food and terrific fellowship. I have to take this opportunity and hop up on my soapbox for just a minute. Now, don't take offense, but I think we put on the best lunch in the state. I'm pretty sure I won't get much in the way of arguments from the cowpokes that have shot with us. Folks find it hard to argue with their mouths full. (grin) As Rifled Slug once said to me, "I've been to a lot of cowboy shoots but I've never had live music to entertain me during dinner". We strive to do our best to give the shooters their money's worth and be a little different.

Ahh, different! That brings the August shoot to mind. Before we go any further, I claim all responsibility for the August shoot. Table Top Tom had a fine scenario all set to go. But NOOOO! I had this oddball idea that just popped into my head. So, I begged, pleaded, cajoled and basically hijacked his scenario. I twisted it like a balloon animal until it emerged as "Judge Roy Bean goes to Hawaii". Yes! For those unfortunate ones that missed this one, I will set the scene for you. The dress code was a "little" different. You were required to wear your usual cowboy hat, but were also required to wear shorts and a Hawaiian shirt. Now you get the picture. (grin) I'm here to tell you, a pard cuts a pretty snazzy figure wearing a colorful lei, shorts, Hawaiian shirt, cowboy hat, and gun belt. It just brings out the best in a stainless steel Vaquero. Then for Stage 4 we added a grass hula skirt and a coconut shell bra. That, my fellow Rangers, was like a million bucks. Something that I've never seen before. (grin) I have to admit it, I did not hear anyone say "Man, I'll sure be glad to get out of these sneakers and back into my cowboy boots because my feet are killing me". All in all, it was a fun, comfortable hot weather shoot. For those of you that missed it I can just say: GET READY! Come next August, we'll do it again. I'll change the scenario some but the shorts and shirts, well, they're just kind of a tradition as far as I'm concerned.

I guess I've been longwinded enough for the first time. I figure I'll just "wind 'er up". I look forward to talking with you next month. I really look forward to shooting with more of you in the time to come. Remember, here at Rockford we shoot all year long. See you down the trail.

Straight Shots from Saginaw

Who can believe that we're heading towards 2003 already? This year has galloped by with lightening speed and has left us with many fond memories and friendships

Our last shoot of 2002 was held on October 12th with 32 shooters attending. The top shooters were:

Men:

Texas John Critter
A.J. Peacock
Bad River Marty
No Buk Chuck
Fast Eddie

Ladies:

Laporte Lil
High Maintenance
Katie Callahan
Annie Rosebud
Elsie Rose

Our shooters went out with a bang by having five clean matches. Texas John Critter, A.J. Peacock, Old Sy, Lumberman, and Pine River Cowboy were grinnin' from ear to ear. Way to go, pards! We had no complaints on target size and Bad River Marty is looking for some bigger ones..... maybe some GIANT buffalos at 15 yards???

A special thanks to Secondhand Jack for building us the Red Dog Saloon stage. We used it during our October shoot and found it to be fun and challenging with lots of possibilities. Great job, Jack! We appreciate ALL our cowboys and cowgals who helped throughout the year, donating their time and efforts to keep the sport alive and growing. Many hands make light work and our gang is as good as they get.

We are working on next year's schedule and hope to see our old friends as well as lots of new faces on the cowboy circuit in 2003.

And remember...Live life....Give it your best shot!

Bad River Marty

Lapeer Wranglers

The Lapeer County Sportsman's Club "Wranglers" have their shooting dates for the 2003 season. You will be sent a list of dates and a map (provided I don't forget it) in the very near future. It looks like all our indoor shooting will be outdoor this coming year. There are just too many concerns about the old pistol building/dust & lead for us to shoot in there this year. Our new pistol range and building has been given the OK by our Board of Directors and site preparation has already begun. The new building will go up just as soon as we get the septic field and new well put in. The best part of all of this is the in-house indoor plumbing! No more cold trips to the one-holer during the winter. For those of you who haven't been to our range lately, you will find some changes have been made. There are three new shooting bays complete with berms and three of the old shooting bays have been bermed. All of these areas are in the "woods" area next to the rifle range.

Speaking of the rifle range, you will find it has been dug down quite a bit starting from the 25 yard line and extending to the 200 yard line. The extra dirt was added to the berms on each side. We are hopeful that for our summer shoots starting in April that we will be able to add new storefronts, etc. which can be left up during the period from April to November. Sure would make it a little easier on our backs not having to put up and take down after each shoot!

For those of you who need a place to shoot, the Lapeer County Sportsman's Club recently took in as members all those on its waiting list. This amounted to about 50 people, so you could be pretty much sure that you would become a member by next September. A person on the waiting list has all the privileges of a regular member except that they cannot vote or have a gate key until they are a regular member. Contact Ricochet Bill or Wall-Man if you are interested in becoming a part of the action.

Evil Roy Shooting School

After two years of trying we finally did it! We talked Evil Roy into coming to Michigan to conduct a shooting class! We are very excited about this opportunity.

For those of you who need a little background, he and his granddaughter, Holy Terror, are on the cover of the October 2002, Chronicle. Evil Roy is the 2001 SASS Overall World Champion and the 2000 SASS Overall National Champion. For more information on Evil Roy's background you may access his website at www.eviltroystshootingschool.com.

ERSS classes cover equipment selection and preparation, drills to improve skills, stage strategy, and the mind set required to be a good shootist and will give you the tools to improve your skills. The class will be two full days, Wednesday and Thursday, August 27-28, 2003. It will take place at the Blue Water Sportsman's Association in Port Huron, MI. It is the two days preceding the Wolverine Rangers Range War and Michigan State Championship. You do not have to be shooting the Range War to take the class.

Cost of the class is $270.00 including range fee for two days. Spouse is added at $170.00. A limited number of juniors may take the class at a significantly reduced price provided their parent, who is also taking the class, accompanies them. Class size is limited to 25.

We think this would make a great Christmas present.
Start dropping hints now.

If you are interested send in a deposit now to hold your spot. Remember, the class is limited to 25. The easy pay plan would be a minimum of $50 now and then $50 a month until paid in full by June 1st. Or, if you wish, you may send a check for the full amount now.

Wolverine Rangers - A Member Letter

Whose Game is it Anyway?

I remember the first time I saw a CAS match. I had gone to the range with my son to shoot his .22 and found out the range was closed for a CAS match. Although we were a little disappointed, we stood there and watched for a little while. As each shooter went through the stage I tried to understand the rules. I figured since they were keeping score and using a timer, that it was a competitive shooting sport and the faster you hit the targets the better. As I watched them shoot I imagined that I could shoot as good as those fellers and decided to get more information. I found the SASS wire and asked a bunch of questions. I bought books and videos. I watched every local match that was held. I called top gunsmiths and asked them what pistols, rifles and shotguns the top shooters were using. I started getting my rig together and practicing every chance I got.

It's been a year since I found out about CAS and I have had a heck of a good time. I've learned a lot about this sport, as numerous cowboys have taken me under their wings and offered me tons of advice. I even won a couple local matches, "Yippee". But in my quest to be a better shooter I started watching the shooters that were beating me. It seemed that I was shooting much heavier loads in my pistols than they were. I asked around and found out that if I cut my powder down by 60% and used a magnum primer and a .38 case, instead of a .357 case, my pistol recoil would be easier to handle. Shooting 125gr bullets at 550fps was a lot easier than 158gr at 900fps. I also found out that my shotgun belt was being worn far too low and therefore costing me precious time in grabbing my shells. (I thought that belly button height meant the belt had to be BELOW the belly button. What a novice!) As the summer wore on, I noticed that I was wearing my holsters too far apart to really be fast on the draw. In fact it seems that wearing them right up front is much faster, even though John Wayne never wore them that way. I even see holsters with plastic inserts to allow even faster/smoothier draws, kind of like an IPSC holster covered in cowhide.

Well enough is enough. Whose game is it anyway? I feel like the long tailed dog that can't turn around quite fast enough to catch it. Who is in charge of this sport? I see cross draws that are over the 30 degree line "as worn", wide shotgun belts that are being worn 6" above the gun belt, loads so light that every shot sounds like a squib, and black powder loads that smoke less than a good heavy dose of Unique. Don't get me wrong, I am not complaining about all those really fast shooters who whoop me on a regular basis. But cross draws that are seriously canted are a safety concern and should be called more closely. In fact, every rule in the rulebook should be strictly enforced or eliminated. So, who's game is it? It's all of ours. The rulebook can't completely define this sport (not one you'd want to carry in your vest pocket anyway). We should all attempt to enforce the rules, whether it is a monthly match or EOT, whether it's a beginning shooter or a top gun. It's tough to call a shooter on a questionable rig and I'm as guilty as the next guy, not wanting to ask someone to slide their shotgun belt down a tad, fix a cross draw or slide their holsters a little farther apart. But rules are rules. Just remember that when someone emulates you, you have affected the game. Luckily, there are still plenty of fast shooters that follow ALL the rules. Competitive shooters are in this sport to win, that's great. Nothing is wrong with winning. I enjoy watching fast shooters, but I absolutely love seeing a fast shooter that has legal leather, wears the shotgun belt just above the gun belt and shoots loads that you can actually hear. That's spirit of the game.

Wolverine Rangers Range War Summary

4th Annual Range War and Michigan State Championship
August 30 - September 2, 2002
By Billy Bob Digwell
(R.C. Huntoon) SASS Life 10445

The Wolverine Rangers and the Single Action Shooting Society hosted their Fourth Annual Michigan State Championship at the Blue Water Sportsman's Club in Port Huron, Michigan on Labor Day weekend from Friday, August 30 to Monday, September 2, 2002. Despite the rocky economy this event's word-of-mouth attracted 204 registered shooters (with seventeen attending from neighboring Canada).

Friday's events began with shooter registration and a full slate of side matches from 10:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. A highlight of the side matches was the new mechanized .22 shooting gallery assembled by Mackinaw Kid and sponsored by the Detroit Sportsman's Congress.

Friday also began the Charity Challenge Event that continued through the weekend. The challenge was a man-on-man match with reactive targets. Many a shooter was called out to match skills for bragging rights with contributions going to the Kimberly Anne Gillary Foundation. Kimberly Anne lost her life in a tragic high school sporting incident in April of 2000. She is the daughter of our friends and fellow Rangers, Randy and Sue Gillary. To preserve Kimberly Anne's memory and prevent another family from experiencing this terrible loss, the foundation has raised over $250,000 to supply every high school in Michigan with specialized defibrillators and the training to use them properly. Over 90 schools have been supplied so far. This is the second year the Rangers have raised money for the foundation at the Range War.

Friday evening found a group of shooters gathered to compete in the mounted event. Each competitor drew a trusty stick horse mount to ride through the balloon strewn course.

As night fell many of the shooters retired to their tents, trailers, and motor homes in the newly sited camping area which has been given the name "Hooterville". Over 60 cowboy families made up the population of Hooterville. The heart of Hooterville was the circle of chairs surrounding the roaring "white man's fire" where the yarn spinners, guitar pickers, and joke tellers held forth. Many folks left the Range War with their fondest memories of the weekend being of Hooterville.

Throughout the weekend Sutler's Row offered many dealers whose goods tempted the greenbacks from cowboy pockets and cowgirl purses. Our old leatherworking friend, Phil Hawk, was present for his fourth Range War with his fine offerings. Off the Wall Gun Carts from Indiana was another returning vendor. Cowtown Katy's Emporium of Louisiana, the Texas Traders and Hurricane's Women's Apparel from Texas added to the variety of choice in cowboy clothes. Ray's Bullets of Montrose, Michigan, Renegade Leather and Trader Dan's of Indiana also added to the range of cowboy plunder available.

Bright and early on Saturday cowboys began congregating on the range in expectation of the safety meeting and the commencement of the ten stage main event. The Blue Water Sportsmen's Club provides a flat and level firing line nearly a quarter mile wide with five shooting bays, plus 100 and 200 yard rifle ranges provide ample space for this major Midwestern match. Returning shooters marveled at the improvements made by this dynamic shooting club since last year and anticipation of those improvements to be made in the year ahead. The size of the range allowed all ten stages to be set up for the whole weekend. By having the ten posses scheduled for five stages each day, the match moved along briskly. Even the last posses completed their stages by 2:00 p.m. each day.

At 8:30 a.m. Saturday, Wolverine Rangers Captain Chili Pepper Pete called the Shooters Safety

Wolverine Rangers Range War Summary

Meeting to order. Following a review of safety and range rules was the introduction of the posse leaders and the stage drivers. Let us take a moment here to thank these folks and their deputies collectively for their hard work which made the Range War a success. With five main match stages on each day of the shoot, plus a checkerboard posse schedule to follow, the task of posse leader was a demanding one. Our stage drivers and their deputies were a new addition to the Range War. These dedicated members spent the whole weekend providing the necessary consistency and direction for all ten posses. The stage drivers sacrificed shooting on a regular posse and shot through in the evenings in order to be able to give their full attention to each day's shooters. To the best of my knowledge all our posse leaders and stage drivers performed without a hitch.

Following the safety meeting I met with the members of Posse Seven. Our cowboys and cowgirls ranged in age from twelve and up. This was the second year my Range War posse was loaded down with young talent. It did help that all the top placing Junior Girl shooters rode with our posse. We had the parents of our youngsters aboard as well. The straight shooting family of Bushy Mills and his daughter, Ally Katt; the husband and wife duo of R.J. Law and The Lady had their daughter, K.C. Kate; and Michigan Miss and I had our daughters, Marquesa de Mores and Miss Kitty Wilkins. For the next two days we renewed old friendships and forged new ones while we cheered each other (and our kids) on.

The ten stages for this year's Range War were designed with an eye toward being straightforward, yet challenging. I would be remiss if I did not mention that there was one particular target element that drew universal comment – especially from the swiftest of our lead dispensers. These were the dreaded blue steer head rifle targets.

Saturday evening the Ranger's traditional Biscuit Slingers Chili Feed was held at the clubhouse just before the crowd gathered for the cowboy trap event that went on into the night under the lights. The clay birds flew and many a red-faced cowboy left the line to the vociferous delight of the onlookers.

Following another day of pleasant shooting weather on Sunday, the washed and curry combed cowboy and cowgirl competitors assembled at Wadham's Banquet Center for the awards and dinner ceremony. The folks at Wadham's outdid themselves in laying a good spread before the hungry shooters. The doubling of serving tables assured that all the diners were served in a relatively short time.

After dinner Mackinaw Kid and No Buk Chuck announced the random drawing winners, conducted the auction, presented recognition awards, and made the presentation of shooting awards before the evening came to a close.

Monday dawned clear for the man-on-man and team event. The six person teams were drawn by chance and utilized a mix of rifle, pistol, and shotgun targets.

The origins of the Range War's success can be found in several places. It comes directly from the experience, efforts, and dedication of the Wolverine Rangers officers and individual members who assisted in delivering a first class cowboy shoot. To all those who contributed time, money, merchandise, and effort, whether mentioned by name or not, let me offer you a warm "thank you and well done". I also want to remark on the assistance given by competitors who aided the posse leaders, stage drivers, and their deputies with the duties of timing, scorekeeping, watching the loading, and unloading tables (safety first, last and always!). The sport is only as good as the people who participate and those who help out within the posse are the folks who understand what the spirit of the game really is all about. The combined targets, props, and backdrops of the Wolverine Rangers affiliated clubs allowed ten unique, memorable, and challenging main match stages.

Wolverine Rangers Range War Summary

I would be remiss if I did not mention the women and men who assisted Lavender Lou in registration: Cactus Kay and Country Girl, and statistical operations of the shoot: Denali Kid and Camptown.

Each year's Range War finds improvements on the previous year and a number of totally new developments that make this a match that all SASS shooters should consider attending. I suggest you mark your calendars now for the Labor Day weekend 2003 and four days of cowboy shooting fun at its best!
